“ Cousin Jab... where do I start, city view was some of the best days of my childhood. I couldn't wait to get out of school for the wkend and ask if I can come over lol. Mila and mica would send me out to call her phone everytime and the answer was never no. Fast forwarding to college adult days nothing changed, Twins still heard “where Shay at” lol. I will miss you dearly. Rest well Mrs. Angela. I love you. ❤️ Tell Rod I said hello and how I use to cross over twins during basketball haha “ Mama Jab! When I first met the twins and realized you knew my family we became family. They were no longer my friends, they were my sisters and you were my mama.

MANY nights you kept our kids while we was out being grown then we would come back to your house for a sleepover and STILL woke up to cooked breakfast from you. I can hear you now “don’t touch my food without washing your hands girl and don’t wash them in my kitchen!” 😂 Every holiday it was a party, a cookout, a bonfire. You knew how to bring the family together and we gone cherish those memories forever. I can’t believe you left us so soon, but God needed you more and I’m grateful you are no longer suffering. The girls and I love you and will miss you so much.
I got your girls and I promise to check on Daddy Donnie as well.
Until we meet again Mama Jab ❤️
