“ Cecil is a good man when I came to the city to work we hit it off like we had work for 30 years. We used to talk about Dallas cowboy all the time. He always look at me and say Don't be talking about them back you know they ain't gonna win. I am going to miss him from being downtown. We be harder at each other every time we see each other.

My sincerest condolences to the McKibben family. Years ago, I saw Cecil in Bear's barbership while waiting on my son to get a haircut and Cecil, said you need to take off of those buddies and get some real tennis shoes...Well, Mr. Cecil...Does Nike and New Balance count. I have a few pair of those. He was hilarious. Praying for the McKibben family.
