“ No one has a greater heart, love or generous spirit than "C." He loved life and sharing his with his patients and co-workers. His dedication to easing the suffering of others was expressed on a daily basis. His impact on the lives of so many was indeed a blessing. He will be remembered for his love towards others. I am so glad he passed my way. My thoughts and prayers are with his family and the many friends who loved him unconditionally. May God comfort and keep us all.

“C” was supportive of the Sunday morning worship times as he worked with patients and volunteers. He recognized the importance of the spiritual impact in the lives of the patients. We at First Lutheran Church appreciated the encouragement he gave to us all. So many have been blessed by his service and commitment to Moccasin Bend. God's comfort and peace to his family.

Clarence and I along with Almeida Luster graduated from the University of Phoenix together. We made a pact that we would help each other obtain our degree's. And we all graduated! I'm in disbelief right now, but my faith in God assures me that Clarence is safe at home now. What a wonderful spirit. LWilliams
