“ Elaine was one of three good friends from Chattanooga State I recently lost. She was working there when I started in 1984. She was always smiling and happy to help when needed. She was very professional, even when she called me curly. And she used that professionalism well in helping students, faculty and staff. My condolences to Frank and Elaine's family.

“Without any question, Elaine Hill was one of the very finest persons who I have known in my entire life. It is hard to conceive that she has passed as she was one of those kinds of people that you felt would be around forever and a day. For a number of years, while I served in an Associate Dean position at Chattanooga State, Elaine was my secretary/administrative assistant. Neither of those job descriptions actually fit, as she was so much more. She was my right hand, my trusted confidant, and the one person whose advice and counsel I always sought and totally trusted. More than any of those important characteristics, she was my friend. She was an absolute pleasure.

What I liked most about Elaine was the intuitive sense that she had about people. She could spot an honest person or a phony a mile away, and she always helped me to understand who I could trust and who I should watch out for. She was extremely generous with my family. She and my wife became friends, and she welcomed my children when they would come to the office in a way that made them feel totally at ease with someone they could talk with like a "buddy." She also made me feel as if I was an extended part of her family, and I grew particularly fond of her father and mother. She was always reporting on her father's church activities, and her mother was a force of nature just like she was. She talked proudly of her family in a way that made me feel that I knew them all personally.

I am a sure that I am only part of a large crowd of people who will always hold Elaine high in their memories. Her spirit will continue to be a part of our lives, and for that I am most thankful. We have little control of who we will cross paths within this world, so how fortunate to cross paths with someone like Elaine. She was one in a million!

“ Hey Big Sis you will be missed. To the Hill and Toney family! We are at a loss, a heartbeat is missing. Elaine was the GOAT, our Mom is so missing her. Her calls her visits just to check on Moma Byrd. She and my sister Valerie digging in those flowers, that you better not mess with. She was so busy checking on me as I've been ill for a while. The laughs, the calls, the love, always giving of herself to others, her whole entire life, her whole entire family, always willing to help and loving on us all. She exemplified a true Christian in everything she did. We've known you all our lives. This one hurts, but, with a smile as she is truly flying high with the Angels because she earned her wings here on earth.

We love you all and prayers continue for your comfort and strength as you go through this transition.

My heart is broken with the news of Elaine passing. She was so special in so many ways. She was a good friend to everyone she met. I cannot imagine how many lives she touched over the years. She was always there for me at anytime. When prayers were needed she was ready, willing and able. She was never more than a phone call away. She made me a better person because she was my friend. I will see you again one day and I will be sitting on your row. Elaine will be missed by many. Prayers for her family and friends. Bonnie Riggs Chattanooga State

Elaine Hill represents a shining example of a caring and supportive voice for students and faculty alike at Chatt State. She engaged all students and colleagues with respect, kindness, sincerity, helpfulness, and knowledge. Elaine worked early on in the department of Humanities, talking and helping students individually with life goals. She became one of our best problem-solvers and moved up that “crystal stair” to administration. Her experience and wisdom guided faculty members to further the mission of the College. Elaine was one of the longest standing members at Chatt State, earning the respect of all who were privileged to work with her.

“ To the families of our dear friend, Elaine:

We know that she is resting in the Elysian fields of Abraham's Bosom. She made her debut and proved that she was of the house and lineage of The Christ. We appreciated the time we knew her and shared ideas together .

Elaine was a loving soul and very helpful towards others, especially if you were trying to attend Chattanooga State College. She was forefront with concerns of any said persons application process. We will all miss her from this span of life, but we all shall meet again on that peaceful shore.
