“ my most sincere condolences to the family of Milton. I worked for him for 15 years. it is impossible for me to pick one memory to share, there are many. Milton was always kind, rather easy going, great to work for. his demeanor made his employees want to go above and beyond requirements. he made us feel like family---cared for, and protected. he extended to me - and others, patience, tolerance and mercy when he could easily have not done so. he loved it when we all brought in food for parties or holidays. often, he'd talk about his wife's red velvet cake, and would be so proud to bring one that she made for him. we made a video of all the employees wishing milton a happy birthday- on his 50th i think it was. employee after employee kidded him or wished him well, on that video. He felt so special that day. milton was loved at work. he still is. his memory will live on in the many lives he touched there.
