“ I still don't really understand this. I miss you so much. Why? Just tell me why...there's not a day that goes by that I don't think about you. There's not a day that goes by that I don't think about your love. Our babies look just like you and that tugs at my heart strings. I see you in everything. It just doesn't make sense. As soon as we make plans for the future, death knocks on the door. Baby I need you. Still today. I need you. I love you so much my heart hurts. Montrell I can't and won't let you go but I will do my best to be happy.

“ Not one day has passed that you haven't crossed my mind... Christmas was especially hard for me. I just miss you texting/calling to check in on me, cooking scrambled eggs for me, & talking Scripture like we used to do. I miss you beyond words, friend, & cannot wait to see you again! The thought alone is exhilarating. I love you, man.

“ Montrell Ramon Tucker we share absolutely way too many memories to talk about just one! Every single moment we shared was memorable! It's not one second that passed that I was in your presence best friend that I would ever not be grateful to have had with you! Two years short of hitting 30yrs of knowing you and having you in my life!! I haven't had an easy day yet just knowing that I can't hear your voice!! I try to remember these smiles we shared with each other to just make it through each day without you!!

“ To my youngest brother, your memories will live forever. Thank everyone for their condolences through these darkest times that I have ever faced. As the oldest of 4, I've always desired to be the protector of my moms and siblings. So, it's hard to not feel that I somehow failed my brother. But I know that there is nothing I could have done or ever do that supercedes GOD'S plan. He's the omniscient , the omnipresent. Although I already miss my brother desperately and he has taken a big part of me with him, maybe I can go on and live with the peace of knowing that little brother will be the one looking down, watching over and protecting big brother for my remaining years. Thank you all again. Love everyone.

MR

Being the oldest of my brothers I most definitely know how you feel being the protective big brother. I'm sure you like I should've seen signs or maybe even just talking maybe I could've talk to him but like you said if God had plans for him there's nothing anyone could've done. Bro my heart goes out to the family and most of all you I'm praying for you bro
